Respite for youth and families in crisis

Our Family's Reunion House offers a free shelter stay for young people needing a safe alternative to the streets, or families who need a short cooling-off period during times of stress.

Under the program, young people ages 12-17 may stay for up to five days in a safe, homelike place and can get referrals to other services including counseling and case management.

We attempt to reunify youth with their parents within 24 hours of arrival. To participate, call (520) 320-5122 or 1-800-573-8696.
